By Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 2.—"Police reports say that the total casualties in last night's raid were one man killed and a woman injured," says an official statement made public this afternoon. "The material damage was insignificant, although the raiders covered a wide area and dropped a number of bombs. Some glass houses were broken and a number of windows were broken."

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Ten Zeppelins took part in last night's raid over London. Two of them failed to return. One of them was seen away and the other, as was reported last night, was destroyed. Reports of casualties have been received. Following is an official account of the raid:
Ten airships crossed the East coast last night between 9 o'clock and midnight. One airship approached the north of London at about 10 M. and was driven off by gunfire pursued by aeroplanes. She attempted to return from the north, but was attacked by guns and planes and brought to earth in the neighborhood of Potbury shortly before midnight. A second airship attempted to attack London from the northeast and was driven off. Bombs were dropped, reports of casualties or damage were not received.
The remaining airships wandered leisurely over the eastern counties. Lincolnshire bombs were dropped. Most of them appear to have been dropped in open country, but doing damage.
The airship destroyed was of the "type."

Friends of Count Zeppelin were informed when they learned that an airship had been brought down in England last night, says the American correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company. The airship intended to take part in the raid, the correspondent cables, but a message sent to Germany elicited the information that at the last moment the airship was dismissed from the raid.

There is no sign of the enemy's coming distance in front of our lines."

SATURDAY NIGHT SETS A RECORD AS THE COLDEST OF THE PRESENT SEASON

Saturday night was the coldest of the season, the temperature being as low as 35 degrees in the city and much lower in the mountains. With only three degrees above freezing here, it was to be expected that it would form in the mountain districts and reports show that such was the case. The frost was heavy both Saturday and Sunday nights.

September set its mark as an unusually cold month, much more so than September, 1915. Official figures compiled from the daily records show that the average maximum temperature for the month was 76.9 compared with 80.5 last year, the average minimum 55.1 compared with 60 and the average mean 66 against 70.1.

On the 19th of last month a new low record for mid-September was set with 37 degrees. The warmest day was the 6th when the thermometer soared to 87 degrees. Last year in September the low mark was 39 on the 29th and the high mark of 90 on the 13th, 15th and 16th.

Frost the last two nights ripened the chestnuts, the burrs being opened and ready to fall.

COLONEL HARVEY,
ORIGINAL WILSON
MAN FOR HUGHES*Distinguished Editor Tells Why He Cannot Support the President.*NEUTRAL NATIONS INTERESTED

Special to The Courier.
NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Colonel George Harvey, who proposed Wilson for President in 1906, is to come out for Hughes in an article in the next North American Review, of which he is editor. In this article Harvey declares the issues of the campaign are "military and industrial preparedness, government by and for the people, and national honor and opportunity."
"Could Josephus Daniels build a great navy in the shortest possible time if he would," Harvey asks, "and would he if he could?" He answers the question by declaring Daniels is opposed to adequate provision for defense.

Harvey characterizes the Adamson wage-fixing law as the "blackmailing of the nation by the President himself at the instigation of Samuel Gompers." "After reviewing Hughes' record," Harvey asserts, "Hughes always means what he says." He declares Hughes stands for "America first" while Wilson stands for "Wilson first."

SCORES WILSON DIPLOMAT.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—William R. Wilcox, chairman of the Republican National Committee, discussing recent press dispatches from Washington, which disclose that flaws have been found by some State Department officials in the retaliatory legislation passed by Congress for the protection of American trade rights against the action of European belligerents, asserts that it was inevitable flaws should appear in legislation enacted at that particular juncture.
Chairman Wilcox says that this legislation, drafted and rushed through Congress in the last few days of the session, naturally represented only an ill-considered and almost hysterical effort to satisfy trade interests demanding action in a situation which confronted the Wilson administration for two years.

HOLLAND FOR HUGHES.
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—"Holland respects President Wilson for standing for peace, but the Dutch people want to see Mr. Hughes elected the next President of the United States," Jan. Kijster, King, Jr., of Des Moines, Holland, said last night at the Port Hill Hotel.
"Mr. Hughes will see that our fishermen are protected from interference by England," he explained. "Besides, he will make a safe highway for Holland goods to pass to and from the sea."

Mr. Kijster is here to extend the exportation of flowers from Holland, and said that Pittsburg is one of his best markets.

T. R. LASHES WILSON.
BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Oct. 2.—Speaking to more than 12,000 persons who were packed in a big circus tent here Saturday, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt assailed the administration record of President Wilson and urged the election of Charles E. Hughes.

Colonel Roosevelt declared that President Wilson's chief policy was the policy of vacillation. He declared the President in "15 messages, letters and speeches," made from December 9, 1914, to February 10, 1916, "took 41 different positions about preparedness and each of these 41 positions contradicted from one to six of the others."

The European policy of President Wilson, particularly in the Lusitania case, was referred to as "humiliating and ignominious."
The Mexican record of the executive was called "outrageous to Mexico, dishonorable to ourselves and infamous from the standpoint of humanity."

Discussing the Adamson railroad wage-fixing bill, Colonel Roosevelt charged that President Wilson in urging passage of the measure by Congress, "took his orders from that one of the parties which he most feared."

New Cop on Job.
Dennis Fisher, new policeman, went on duty last night.

QUARANTINE IN STATE LIFTED

Dr. Dixon Removes Ban Imposed; Says Infantile Paralysis Spread Is Checked.

Special to The Courier.
HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—The quarantine which has been in force for the past 60 days, to prevent the entrance to Pennsylvania of children under 15 years from other states without certificates of health, was lifted at midnight, Sunday, October 1. Under the direction of Dr. Samuel C. Dixon, Commissioner of Health, more than a thousand men have been engaged in guarding along 800 miles of border all of the highways, railroads, ferries and bridges entering the commonwealth. It has been the most effective and far-reaching quarantine measure ever instituted by any state for the protection of its citizens.
Dr. Dixon states that there has been a steady decline in the number of cases reported and that in his opinion and that of the members of the advisory board of the department, the situation is such that it is safe to remove the restrictive measures. Special quarantine may be instituted for a time against children's excursions to infected districts in other states and the attendance of children from this state at county fairs in adjacent states will be prevented.
Parents have been advised to keep their children away from public assemblies wherever possible.

RACE STILL CLOSE

National League Contest May Not Be Settled Before Thursday.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—The National League championship may not be decided until next Thursday, the last day of the season, so close is the race between Brooklyn and Philadelphia.
Brooklyn, which today starts a four game series with New York, has an advantage of only a fraction of a game. Philadelphia has six games to play yet, all with Boston, and they must be played in four days.

Boston has only a slight chance to win, as it must take all six games from Philadelphia, and Brooklyn must lose three out of four to New York. All of the western clubs have completed their schedule.
By losing to Cleveland in one game yesterday, Chicago was eliminated as a pennant contender in the American League and Boston is once more champion of the younger circuit.

WORK IS TO START ON STEEL MILL AT ONCE; CASH IS DUE*Call is Made for First Payment of the Stock Subscriptions.*RAPID PROGRESS TO BE MADE*Outside Capital Becomes Available
as Fast as Local Subscribers Meet Their Assessments; Still Canvassing for Additional Subscriptions.

Work will be started immediately upon the construction of the electric steel mill of the United States Electric Steel Company, which is to be located on the Hard Bottom, near the West Penn power house. Much preliminary work has already been done, but now that it is assured that Connellsville will subscribe the full amount required of it, actual construction is to begin in the near future.

Much depends, officials of the company say, on the manner in which Connellsville subscribers pay their assessments. The call for the first installment of 25 per cent on the amount of stock subscribed has been issued and this money is now due. F. E. Markey is the treasurer of the company and is accepting payments, issuing stock for the same. The outside capital which is invested here becomes available, dollar for dollar, as local stockholders pay in.

"If this proposition is to be the success it ought to be," an official of the company said today, "it ought to be operating as quickly as possible. Local stock subscribers can certainly help a great deal by paying their assessments promptly. The sooner the mill is operating, the better the opportunity for early profits."

The canvassers have made good progress. While the entire amount has not yet been secured, it is expected that there will not be great difficulty on this score. The canvass will be continued until the entire first assessment of 25 per cent has been paid in.

SMITH CASE UP

Jury For Second Time Will Pass on Ownership of Local Property.

Special to The Courier.
UNIONTOWN, Oct. 2.—The second trial in common pleas court to determine the ownership of the estate of the late Bertha Rosanna Smith, who died in Connellsville September 20, 1906, was begun today before Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen. The trial in which Mary Jane Kepple and 17 others, claiming kinship with the late Mrs. Smith, are contesting the order made by the Orphans' court, escheating the $100,000 estate to Harman M. Kepphart, is one of the most important of the 350 cases listed for trial at this term of court.

It was begun today before the trial was begun that at least a week will be consumed with the hearing. The former trial before Judge J. C. Work, of the orphans' court who was brought into common pleas court, was a long one, resulting in a disagreement. Mr. Kepphart, following the failure of the jury to agree asked for judgment upon the whole record. After argument before Judge Work a decision was handed down in last July in which Mr. Kepphart's motion was refused.

The 18 persons who claim to have descended from Mrs. Smith and who are asking that the order of the orphans' court escheating the estate to Mr. Kepphart be set aside are: Mary Jane Kepple, Agnes E. Ferguson, Mrs. Andrew Funk, William Hedding, John Hedding, Charles Hedding, James Hedding, Levi Hedding, Wilda Hedding, Marra Hedding, Hazel Hedding, Mrs. Mary Kopple, Mrs. Maud Bush, Mrs. Annie Waite, Grever C. Ferguson, Mrs. Mary Kinney, Mary Funk, and Elizabeth Funk.

The jury was selected this forenoon and a recess taken until 2 o'clock when the plaintiff's case was opened to the jury.

BISHOP PRAISES CHURCHMEN HERE

Head of Episcopal Diocese Visits Connellsville, Where Congregation Has Been Revived.

Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead of Pittsburg, preached to the revived Protestant Episcopal congregation for the first time in St. John's German Lutheran Church last night. He was heard by an unusually large congregation and the services were impressive. He was assisted by Rev. A. N. Slayton, rector, and Rev. M. S. Kanaga and Rev. Mandeville James Barker, Jr., assistant rectors of the Uniontown Episcopal Church. Rev. Barker had been ordained into the clergy by the bishop at the morning service in Uniontown.

Bishop Whitehead reviewed the history of the Episcopal congregation here to the time services were abandoned about four years ago and complimented the present members for their efforts to re-establish themselves in Connellsville. He was pleased with their quarters and urged them to work for a permanent church as a future goal. The congregation now numbers about 75, but the service last night was attended by more than enough to fill the German Lutheran Church. A vested choir, from the Uniontown church assisted in the service.

The ordination service was presided over by Holy Communion. Rev. Slayton and Rev. Kanaga assisted the bishop in the ordination, the former preaching the ordination sermon. Rev. Barker was presented with a Bible by the bishop, symbolizing his authority to preach the word of God, and also with a chalice and paten, in token of his authority to administer holy sacraments. Rev. Barker will be in charge of St. John's at Dunbar for the present. He is a native of Buffalo.

Contributions to a parish house fund for the Uniontown church were generous. The Pittsburg diocese has already appropriated $500 for this purpose.

The other men found in the house, Barney Neal of Elmhurst and Oley Russell, said to conduct the house, left $5 forfeits and were released. Russell's wife promised to appear for a hearing, but failed to do so, owing to the sickness of her two children. Patrolman Barnes, Rull and G. Francis made the raid, after repeated complaints about the house had been reported to Chief Bottler.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

Street Commissioner Says Business Men Litter Up His Thoroughfares.

Street Commissioner William McCormick has swept Pittsburg and Main streets for the last time, according to an ultimatum he issued this morning, unless the merchants on those streets assist him in keeping them clean. Commissioner McCormick said that the merchants do not seem to appreciate his work in keeping the thoroughfares bright as a new pin. He is tired of seeing dirt swept from the sidewalks into the streets immediately after he has cleaned them.

Mayor Marietta supplemented Mr. McCormick's statement with one of his own. The mayor says that anyone throwing paper or rubbish of any kind into the streets will be prosecuted "to the full extent of the law."

"The White Flour Pinch"—have you felt it? With the advancing price of wheat "the five-cent loaf is doomed," say the bakers. In its place we have the six-cent loaf—in many cities only the ten-cent loaf. A loaf of white flour bread is not a complete ration. However wholesome and pure, it does not supply all the proteins the human body needs. In Shredded Wheat Biscuit you have all the body-building nutriment in the whole wheat grain prepared in a digestible form. It is always the same price, always the same high quality. GAS, HEARTBURN, INDIGESTION OR A SICK STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" Ends All Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes.

If your meals don't sit comfortably or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs to your home.—Adv.

Would your skin stand this test?

The bright lights of an evening gathering show up mercilessly the defects of a poor complexion. But the regular use of makes it as easy to have a naturally beautiful skin as to cover up a poor one with cosmetics. It lessens the tendency to pimples, redness and roughness, and in a very short time the complexion usually becomes clear, fresh and velvety.

In severe or stubborn cases, Resinol Soap should at first be used by a little Resinol Ointment. All druggists sell them.

See each tender face and that Resinol Soap is the best.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If Cross, Foverish or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a tablespoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "Fruit Laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

JOHNNY KILBANE VERSUS WELSH

Demand Growing for Long
Contest Between Two Champions.

BATTLE WOULD BE CORKER

Many Fight Experts Believe Featherweight Title Holder Stands Splendid Chance of Defeating the Man Who Sports the Lightweight Honors

The pugilistic world is rooting for a Johnny Kilbane-Fred Welsh match. In boxing centers this has been the leading topic ever since the featherweight champion polished off George Chancy, his only rival for the honors of his class. Both of these men have disappointed so often in their recent bouts that the fans are slow to become enthusiastic over a no decision affair between the two, but there would be a great deal of interest in a twenty round battle to a decision.

In the end New York probably will get the match, for Welsh is too shrewd to risk his crown with Kilbane with whom he has felt the featherweight champion out and discovered how he stands with him. The referee question and the size of the purse are other obstacles in the way of a twenty round contest. If Welsh insists upon selecting his own referee, as usual, no promoter could afford to guarantee the men a large sum, because that might simply make a joke of the whole affair.

Kilbane is generally conceded to have a better chance of stopping Welsh than any other man who could be selected. Kilbane would be outweighed by many pounds, of course, for, though he often fights at 130 pounds, his very best fighting weight is at the featherweight limit. On the other hand, he is almost as tall as Welsh, and there is not much difference in their reach. The important feature is that Kilbane is by far the better biter.

Kilbane is just as good a ring general and is much faster. His defense is not quite as complete as that of Welsh, but that is merely because Welsh devotes all his time to covering and playing safe. Kilbane is no mark for any one, but he is willing to take any reasonable chance in order to land solidly when the occasion requires such tactics. No real biter can avoid everything that comes his way.

ABOUT FALL CANNING ARTS.

The Value of Accuracy Instead of Guesswork—Preserving Really Means Sterilization and Meticulous Sealing. Suggestions About Vegetables.

First.—Fresh fruits and vegetables are first choice, if available. If not, canned goods, home-made or commercial, are a veritable godsend—wholesome, convenient and economical.

Second.—Canning means sterilization (killing bacteria and spore by heat, and hermetically sealing so that no invaders can enter the can). Nobody needs a canning powder. They are always dangerous and useless.

Third.—There is little if any more danger of illness from canned goods than from fresh. Sterilization is a highly perfected process, and nearly all spoilage makes itself known to sight and taste and smell. The most cure must be exercised with milk and meat and fish.

Fourth.—Throw away a can that is "swelled" or "leaky." This may mean insufficient sterilization or gas formation, and no chances should be taken, though some feel it means only over-kill.

Fifth.—Use a thermometer. Don't guess. Womanly intuition and the rule of thumb would never produce efficiency in a cannery, and they won't do it in the home kitchen.

Sixth.—Saltpetre and saccharine in canned corn, copper sulphate for green beans, benzoic and salicylic acids for ascorbic acid and other preservatives are all evils of a dead and buried past. The only canned goods chemically preserved to be found nowadays are those put up on the farms and in small towns, where the peddler of the "preserving powder" misleads the unsuspicious home canner into using his anonymous wares.

Seventh.—A can of corn twenty-seven years old recently was critically examined by a food commission and pronounced to be "good eating." A product that was inferior before going into the can may at the year of age be a better product than its elder brother. However, age is not to be desired in canned foods, and they should not be carried over several seasons. The amount of the absorbed increases on standing, condensed milk "limps" and excesses of heat or cold injure quality.

waist line, and stripes of heavier trim the cuffs and broad collar collar. Cheer mothers can easily duplicate this garment in any preferred material.

HER FALL TAILLEUR.

What Autumn is Already Promising For Style.

A PROUD MOMENT.

Autumn suits are clinging to fullness indeed. This one takes such a skirt and emphasizes it in the coat skirt as well. The fabric is a dark brick gaberdine, the underarm fullness being strapped down in a belt effect. Self buttons close it, and a seal cape collar matches the black velvet trim of the smart collar.

FOR HOUSEHOLD PACKING.

Autumn Brings Its Bugbear of Pulling Up Stakes.

When one must move, begin with the small, out of sight tasks that will not render the house untidy and uncomfortable long before leaving it. A little thought and a look around the house will disclose many of the belongings that are not in general use—for instance, stuff in the pantry, the storeroom, superfluous grocery supplies, temporarily discarded clothing, superfluous ornaments, company porcelain and glassware, books, music and a thousand other things, all of which can be disposed of without destroying the appearance of the house while those adding in the same will not be the wiser for it.

Dispose of unnecessary possessions that some one else may be glad to make use of; then pack clothing not in use into boxes and mark the contents on each box. Books, pictures and ornaments are best packed in rather small boxes that are easy to handle. Have crumpled, rags and matting cleaned, rolled and tied.

For packing kitchen utensils, jars of fruit, egg, etc., are best for they have handles. A pot or kettle in the bottom will hold several jars placed in it with bits of paper, hay or smaller articles, like knives and forks, to hold them steady, but be careful not to have anything extend higher than the sides of the tub.

Barrels are best for the fine china and glassware. When packing breakfast, remember that every article must be protected so that none of its surface is left exposed to pressure without support. Stuff all hollow articles as full as possible, surround all handles, stems, etc., by padding so thick that the article becomes, as nearly as possible, a solid ball. Cups and glasses should not be slipped inside each other unless well covered with padding. Plates and saucers may be made in a pile with stuffing between and the whole packed solid by bands of muslin wound around them. Expectorator, hair and nailbrushes are all good packing material, but often kitchen towels, holders, underware, etc., may be used to steady things and get themselves transported at the same time.

Drawingstring Bags.

Drawingstring bags made of silk or of satin continue strongly in the land. Some very effective numbers in other fabrics, such as worsteds, have been brought out. The new designs and shapes show great variety. The ruffled skirt effect is still prominently featured, as also are the draped effects of the lamp shade type.

A BEAR AND A CROW.

"If you wish some of your favorite blackberry pies, Bobby, you must go to the field and gather berries," said Mrs. Bear one morning.

A little later Bobby Bear left home, a new tin pail over his arm and his mother's old pink sunbonnet on his head. He looked cautiously about to see if any one he knew was watching.

"Don't you dare take off that bonnet, Bobby!" warned his mother. "The day is very hot, and you might get a sunstroke. If that naughty Jimmy Crow laughs or says anything to you, just don't pay any attention to him."

Now, although Mrs. Bear did not know it, Jimmy Crow was perched on top of a nearby tree, and he heard every word she said.

Before long Bobby was hard at work among the blackberry bushes.

Unknown to Bobby, Jimmy Crow had followed him, and his sharp eyes spied something that Bobby would have missed, even had he not been hampered by the sunbonnet. Just ahead of the little bear boy lay a snake, small but poisonous, which had been disturbed by Bobby's presence, and was in a very nasty temper. Its tail switched angrily, and the darting fangs were ready to strike at the first chance.

"Look out, Bobby! Look out!" cried Jimmy, but instead of his mother's words, Bobby paid no attention. "I'm only trying to tease you," thought Bobby, and he advanced a step further. Then he heard a rattle among the dry leaves and the hiss of the snake. The little bear boy dropped his pail and started to run, but the brambles caught his thick fur and held him prisoner. He screamed in fright and struggled frantically to tear himself loose, but the thorns only gripped him the tighter.

The snake was almost upon him when something flashed from above like a streak of lightning, disappeared among the leaves, and next moment emerged in triumph. It was brave Jimmy Crow, grasping the snake firmly back of the neck, close to the head, so that it was powerless to strike. Jimmy flew to the brook and dropped the enemy into the deepest pool, then hurried back to help Bobby.

It was some time before the little bear boy was untangled, and it took still longer to fill the overturned pail. Then the pair started happily for Bobby's home.

When Mrs. Bear heard the story of her boy's danger and rescue she forgot all about the scolding that was waiting for Jimmy Crow. Instead, she insisted that he stay for supper, and when Jimmy finally said, "Good night," he carried home with him a beautiful blackberry pie all his own.

MAKING A COLD FRAME.

Construction Is Essentially the Same as That of a Hotbed.

Cold frame construction is essentially the same as that of the hotbed. The frame may be permanent or temporary. The permanent frame should be made of brick, cement or heavy plank and should extend to the bottom of the pit. The pit for ordinary purposes need not be as deep as that for the hotbed since no heating material is required. However, if it is desired to use it as a storage pit for half hard flowers, an excavation of three feet is necessary, which should be lined on sides and bottom. A few inches of sawdust or clinders should then be put in and the plants in pots plunged into it.

The temporary cold frame does not require a pit and can be constructed of one inch stock. The frame is simply set on top of the ground on soil which has been supplied with plenty of organic matter. It may or may not be of the same dimensions as the hotbed, but since the standard size of sash is 6 by 8 feet, it is more convenient to make the frame of the same width. The length, however, is not arbitrary and can be made to suit conditions. Ordinarily for a 60 by 60 foot garden two sash will suffice.

If the frame is to be used as a seed bed in which to raise plants for transplanting to the open it should have preferably a rather light sandy loam soil, but if it is to be used for maturing early spring or fall crops it should contain an abundance of organic matter. A soil for maturing crops is usually too rich to be used as a seed bed. The soil should be well smoothed with an iron toothed rake in order to make it as fine as possible. The sash, if put on for a couple of days before the seed is planted, tends to warm up the soil and greatly assist the germination of the seeds.

New Damson Plum.

Damson plums and plum butter are two Pennsylvania products, but the great drawback to the old fashioned damson is that the fruit is so small that it takes a long time to pick a bushful, says the Philadelphia Ledger. For that reason the Shropshire damson has become popular because the fruits are much larger. And now we have another damson plum. The French damson has been introduced to the nursery trade and bids fair as soon as its good qualities are known to usurp the older varieties in its popularity.

The French damson is hardy in tree, is very fruitful and holds its fruit and foliage well. The trees are larger and more productive than most damsons. The fruit is excellent in quality, handsome in appearance, of large size and when fully ripe or after a touch of light frost it can be eaten out of the hand with a relish. Its season is a week or two later than that of the Shropshire, which is an advantage, as it helps to prolong the season, and the price of plums is going up at the same time.

For some unknown reason the stone clings in some seasons, but it is free at others.

Why Dogs Turn Around.

The habit of dogs turning around several times before lying down is said to be one of the wild traits of this animal's prehistoric ancestors, who did so to make a bed in the grasses and leaves. Foxes and wolves have the same habit when lying down in the open where there is no grass.

FOR TRAVELERS.

How to Journey the Easiest, Pleasantest Way.

A common purse for traveling companions does away with much confusion and wearisome settling up after a day of night-sleeping. Every morning let each member of the party put a specified amount into a common purse, from which equal expenses, such as car fares, fees, luncheons, etc., are to be paid. Personal expenditures or extras should be taken from individual purses. A nice way to keep neckwear, ribbons and such things smooth when packing in a suitcase is to put them between the different leaves of a magazine. This takes up less room than a box in a suit case and is very convenient when removed to the dresser drawer, as it keeps these small articles smooth and nice.

A stiff harbor cut to equal the depth of the hat and placed over the hat will be found to be a most effective way of preserving its freshness during travel. Underwear and other little accessories can be packed neatly on either side to prevent the box and hat from swaying.

There is a nightgown designed especially for travelers who must spend the night on the cars. It has a pocket in which toilet articles may be tucked and a big hood which may be slipped over disheveled hair for the trip from the berth to the dressing room.

A bag of white cloth such as is used for shelves, with a drawingstring at the top, is a highly prized possession when one travels. The soiled clothing is snugly and securely packed in it, thus preventing the contents of the trunk from being affected by it.

Sometimes when traveling or visiting there is pressing need of a laundry bag and none at hand. If one can procure any sort of common towel, a bag may easily be made. Fold the towel in halves and sew up the sides to within six inches of the top. Fold the tops over outside and stitch across, leaving an inch space for the drawingstrings, which may be of tape, ribbon or anything that happens to be at hand. Such a bag will serve its purpose and can readily be converted back to a towel when the need is over.

Autumn Colors.

The powers that be who determine what women will wear next season have put their heads together in Paris and decided upon the new autumn colors. Would you like to know what they are to be? Yellow, it seems, is left out entirely, and green, so fashionable this year, will have a few adherents. There are purplish blues, nickel and gun metal grays and several charming reds, including fuchsia, geranium and brick red. Browns will be exclusively fashionable, with a gamut from bisque to chocolate. The great feature in this respect, however, will be champagne, each shade of champagne combining two others in short effect.

Cross Stitches.

Cross stitch is effectively applied to many handkerchiefs. A pretty gift can be made in quick time by using Dutch blue cotton or silk to cross stitch a design in the corner of a handkerchief.

GUARDSMAN SAYS GOOD MEALS ARE SERVED IN CAMP

R. S. Gove, Scottsdale Boy
With Minnesota Troops,
Writes Letter Home.

ROUTINE OF CAMP OFTEN HARD

Digging Trenches and Clearing Land for Parade Grounds is Good. Hard Work Many Cases of Malaria Fever
Reported; Big Sham Battle is Held.

Robert S. Gove, a Scottsdale boy, who is with Minnesota guardsmen at Llano Grande, Tex., has written an interesting letter to The Courier, giving some sidelights on camp life and explaining especially that the "grub" served up is good.

"Since I have come to this camp," he says, "I have gained 20 pounds, and it is good hard meat at that." Besides the good food served, he attributes this gain to hard work. "We have cleared a half-section of land for a parade ground, and we have also cleared the land covered by our regiment."

Mr. Gove cites the menu for a week to prove that the meals served up by the camp cooks are good ones. The food is varied and the list of dishes fairly makes one's mouth water. For breakfast one morning, these foods were served: Oatmeal, rice, siltch and coffee. The next morning there were pancakes, bacon, prunes and coffee. For a breakfast later in the week the boys had scrambled eggs, French toast, and coffee.

Representative of the regular dinners served is this one: Cod fish, potatoes, stewed onions, stewed apples, and lead tea. On one occasion the midday meal consisted of fried chicken, mashed potatoes, gravy with carrots, stewed tomatoes, mince pie, ice cream, ice tea. "This meal, fit for a king, was in honor of some special occasion, the officers furnishing the ice cream and the men the chicken."

The supper served are just as good. One included these dishes: Boiled beef, gravy, pickles, corn, potatoes, apple butter, and cocoa.

Mr. Gove mentions in his letter some of the duties performed at the camp. One day, for instance, a competitive drill was held. The next afternoon, field inspection was held. Later in the week a practice march took place. Another time the men were set to digging trenches. After a battalion parade, they refilled the trenches they had dug. On Wednesday, September 20, they participated in a big sham battle.

"The only thing wrong in camp," says the soldier, "is the malaria fever. There are 300 cases of it, and those of us who are well have to take 6 grains of quinine daily as a preventative."

Mr. Gove closes his letter by saying, "I spent Saturday and Sunday, September 23 and 24, with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Russell, who now live in Brownsville, Texas, but formerly of Conneltsville, and I had a delightful time."

PENNY PAPERS PASSING

Pennsylvania Publishers Predict an Increase in Price of Dailies.

Special to The Courier.
READING, Pa., Oct. 2.—That the penny newspaper will in a short time be a thing of the past was the consensus of opinion among owners and representatives of Pennsylvania dailies and weeklies, in conference here. It was an informal special meeting of the Pennsylvania Publishers' Association, including members of the State Editorial Association, the Pennsylvania News Association and publishers not connected with any of these organizations.

"No more cheap paper is a prospect that must be faced," declared J. H. Zerby of the Pottsville Republican, chairman of the white paper committee of the Pennsylvania and National Editorial Associations, and a leading figure in the agitation against high prices.

The conference was held at the request of the Federal Trade Commission, which has been investigating conditions in the paper business. A report of the proceedings will be forwarded to the commission by J. Raymond Hoover of Washington, attorney of the national body and of the Pennsylvania Association, who is attending the conference.

Coal and Coke Movement.
Coal and coke shipments over the Pennsylvania railroad lines east of Pittsburgh for August amounted to 6,487,799 tons, an increase of 741,332 tons compared with those of 1915. From January 1 to August 31 the tonnage amounted to 50,025,460, a gain of 5,289,252 tons over the corresponding period last year.

Development Under Way.
The Ramsey Coal Company has begun the development of 140 acres of coal at its new No. 2 plant near Wilkins in Ligonier Valley.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

EXTENSION OF THE MONONGAHELA R. R.

Is Reported at Fairmont to be Confirmed; No Time Fixed When the Construction Will Begin.

One of the things that leaked out during the visit of Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroad companies representatives to Fairmont recently, says The Times of that city, was the confirmation of the story that the Monongahela railroad jointly owned by these two large transportation companies will be extended from Fairmont to Belington. Just how soon the work will be started is still a matter of conjecture yet the project is one of the early developments in railroad construction of West Virginia. The territory that will be traversed by the extension of this line will embrace the coal fields of Marlton, Harrison, Taylor, Barbour, Lewis and Upshur counties.

That these companies are negotiating for the coal & coke road is also a certainty. Just how far the negotiations have gone is not known but it is believed here that the matter is about closed.

The real object of the representatives of the six different companies, the Pennsylvania, the New York Central, the Baltimore & Ohio, the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and the Monongahela railroad companies visit to Fairmont was to make a survey in reference to coal rates to Michigan, Indiana and Ohio and to the Lakes in connection with the rate case now before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

CAR INQUIRIES OUT

Railroads Make Preparations for Placing Large Rolling Stock Orders.

Pronounced activity has developed in the car market. After holding off for months the railroads are now preparing to place large orders. Within the past few days inquiries have aggregated 10,000 or more cars, which with foreign inquiries make a total of at least 14,000 cars.

This does not take into account the additional equipment for the Russian and Italian state railways and other foreign proposals which are in an indefinite stage. The new movement toward the purchase of equipment by the railroads seemingly is an expression of hard pressing needs under present traffic conditions and of the abandonment of any hopes for lower prices that might have been entertained.

The railroads now in the market, are seeking delivery on these cars as early as the builders can make them.

Strike Against Safety Lamps.
Three thousand miners employed by the Vandellia Coal Company and the Vigo Mining Company, at Dugger, Ind., are on strike because of an order issued by the company requiring the use of electric safety lamps in the mines.

COAL BARGES

Being Returned to Monongahela River for Repairs and Loading.

It is currently reported that the Pittsburgh Coal Company will return a large fleet of coal barges to the Monongahela river which have been in commission on the Kanawha during the past year. The docks which the company maintains at Huntington, W. Va., are so crowded with work that all the necessary repairs cannot be made there.

The coal company has a number of docks on the Monongahela which have been idle since the river coal business of the company was transferred to the Kanawha last year. These docks are in shape for use and they will no doubt be employed in the repair work. It is probable that after repairs are made the craft will be loaded at the mines on the Monongahela for shipment to southern points.

Two errors and Haggerty's single decided one of the first games played at Trotter in favor of Filbert. The game was a pitcher's battle between Swope and Keefe; with the Trotter hurler having the best of the argument. Trotter scored a run in the second inning and one in the sixth. A. Frazier sprained his ankle in the last inning with two out, and Cover finished the game behind the bat. Cover starred in the field for Trotter.
